Learning Through Nature provides specialist services in the fields of environmental education, environmental practices and management, conservation, hospitality and tourism and early childhood education in:

- training and facilitation,
- materials development,
- moderation and assessment,
- tutoring (including e-tutoring and video conferencing),
- accreditation of training providers

The principal partner of Learning Through Nature is Jeanette Stewart who has tertiary qualifications and experience in all the above fields.

Mission - Learning Through Nature is committed to providing a professional and quality service in developing skills in people working in the natural environment and early childhood development. Encouraging others to be inspired to take care of young children, recognise the value of ecological resources and promote sustainable livelihoods in South Africa through quality education and training.
